Dear All,

Last year we held a maths workshop for parents. A recurring theme was that parents want to help their children with maths but are worried about using the correct vocabulary and methods.

As part of our on-going work to support adults to support children, we have purchased every family a copy of 'Maths for Mums & Dads' by Rob Eastaway & Mike Askew. Miss Crook has heard both of these gentlemen speak enthusiastically at a Maths Conference. Their approach to maths is accessible, 'down to earth' and fun!

Please accept the book as a gift from the school to help you, now and in the future, support your child with maths. Please note, the book did not cost us £10.99 as per the cover, but in fact we paid £3. The school would not be able to photocopy such information for that price!

We hope you will use the book in a variety of ways. Maybe read it, enjoy it, and then use it as a reference point, when you feel the need for clarification or reassurance!

Please let us know any feedback you have regarding the book.

Kindest regards

Kay Bridson
