Who are we and what do we value?

Our current pupils say...

they value our smiling, happy atmosphere. Pupils like coming to school because they like learning and Y6 tell us they "feel ready/ well prepared" to leave us and want to keep learning in the future. (Pupil questionnaires/ interviews January 2013 / 2014)

Our former pupils say...

their time at Stratford allowed them to build confidence and take on leadership roles. The school helped me to make friends and be a good person. Learning activities were exciting, memorable and varied. They feel they were prepared well for secondary school. (Ex-pupil questionnaires March 2014)

Parents indicate...

that they strongly support the school because, they value the caring and happy climate / ethos, as well as the sense of order, belonging and good behaviour. They tell us that their children develop into confident young people who enjoy learning. (Parental Questionnaires March 2013/ January 2014)

Staff believe...

they make a positive difference to children's lives and therefore enjoy coming to work. Members of staff feel part of a team and value working together in order to promote positive outcomes for children. (Staff Questionnaires July 2013)

Visitors to the school say....

"The school is one of the most nurturing and child-friendly environments I have visited. In my varied roles I have travelled the world and this school is amongst the best I have ever seen." (Professor Sir Al Aynsley Green Children's Commissioner for England 2005- 2010)

"Pupils are enthusiastic and extremely willing to take part and have a go at new activities." (Sports coach July 2014)

"The two groups of children I have worked with are the fittest groups I have worked with this year." (Bikeability teacher July 2014)

"All the children took part with enthusiasm and listened extremely well (St John's Ambulance staff July 2014)

OFSTED says we are a good school...

"The proportion of pupils known to be eligible for free school meals is well above average. The percentage of disabled pupils and those with special educational needs, including those with a statement of special educational needs, is well above average. Most of these pupils have difficulties related to language, communication and social skills."

"The headteacher, deputy headteacher and staff share high ambitions for every pupil whatever their circumstances or the challenges they face. They are ably supported by the governing body in pursuing further school improvement. "

"The teaching of reading is good because it is structured and systematic. Pupils are grouped according to their abilities within class. The school's plans to group pupils from the Reception Year and Years 1 and 2 together according to their needs, are well chosen. They arise from staff evaluating their practice and pupils' learning, and striving for further improvement. Sessions focusing on reading skills continue for as long as a pupil needs them."

(OFSTED Inspection Report March 2012)

SIAS says we are an outstanding church school...

"Stratford sub Castle VC Primary School is an outstanding Church of England primary school. Its provision for the needs of all learners is exemplary, rooted in Christian values and perspectives which permeate and unite the whole school. The quality of the school as a community and its focus on the aspirations and successes of all children have led to immense strengths which command the respect and support of all stakeholders."

"An established strength is the uncompromising commitment of the whole school to inclusion. This is driven by the core Christian values of the school, by its underlying spiritual life and by the shared vision of the school of all stakeholders, including pupils and their parents and carers."

(SIAS Inspection Report May 2012)

The headteacher says...

Our school was judged to be "good" by OFSTED for the first time in March 2012. In May 2012 the school was judged to be "outstanding by SIAS". Over the last ten years the school has improved levels of attainment and achievement. This has been a challenge due to the high levels of SEN (46% in some year groups), FSM and child protection amongst pupils. Tracking indicates that the children who are particularly vulnerable are the pupils who face "a cocktail of challenges" i.e. those who fall into two, three or even four vulnerable categories. We have worked hard to make the children who face "a cocktail of challenges" feel valued, safe and ready to learn. Children now make better than expected progress in the majority of areas. We must continue to help our pupils gain even more ground, so that they may be more open to life's opportunities and experiences.

(Kay Bridson July 2014)

Our vision for learning, is that our children are ACTIVE!

ACTIVE LEARNING = DOING 😊 THINKING 😊 UNDERSTANDING 😊

Our commitment to our children as learners...

We are committed to helping each child learn in a happy, safe and stimulating environment. By the end of their time at Stratford-sub-Castle Primary School, we want each child to be 'launched' into the 'Big Wide World' as confident and inspired learners. We believe that each child has a natural curiosity and enthusiasm for learning. We aim to 'fuel' and sustain each child's learning journey. Our vision for learning is that children are actively DOING, THINKING and UNDERSTANDING. We believe:

- we are role models; we are all learners
- every part of the school day provides an opportunity for learning
- every child is an instinctive learner and naturally curious
- that positive self-esteem and self-belief lie at the core of learning and that the motivation and commitment of learners cannot be taken for granted
- learners need to be "let into the secret" and provided with the appropriate building blocks to progress their learning
- in promoting positive self-image and high esteem
- in engaging positive emotions
- that individual learners have legitimately different behavioural needs
- in maintaining a supportive and safe environment where "put-downs" from staff and peers are not accepted.

We are committed to responding to the needs of our pupils. In doing so we develop learning experiences that are:

- hands on / first hand (active!)
- linked in a cross-curricular way and linked to previous learning
- developing the skills of "learning to learn"
- designed to maximise opportunities for oracy
- designed to develop solid basic skills within real and meaningful contexts
- enhanced by ICT
- enhanced by use of the outdoors; our grounds, locality and visits
- adapted to the interests of our pupils and responsive to their enthusiasms and curiosities
- designed to extend each child's understanding and knowledge of themselves and the world around them.

What are our strengths?

Monitoring and evaluation indicates that:

- key leaders focus relentlessly on improving teaching and learning resulting in the majority of teaching being outstanding and the rest consistently good
- the SLT model good practice and work closely with teachers in the classroom. Staff meetings focus on improving outcomes for pupils by improving teaching. Teachers within the school support each other to do the best for all children
- staff are constantly striving to meet the high expectations of the SLT
- high professional standards of all staff lead to respectful relationships at all levels
- staff are enthusiastic and motivated, they are channelled to very good effect
- the curriculum provides pupils with highly positive, memorable experiences. Rich opportunities for high quality learning have a positive impact on behaviour and safety.
- well planned, thoughtful and targeted interventions ensure good progress for vulnerable children, including those supported through the Pupil Premium
- parents are engaged to the benefit of pupils, including many parents who have had poor experiences of schools and other institutions
- the school's safe-guarding arrangements are outstanding, demonstrated by a very strong commitment to CP and the recognition that each child is an individual.
- all leaders and managers including the governing body consistently communicate high expectations and ambition. This is based on careful analysis of data and a deep understanding of the performance of all children and adults in the school.
- governors ensure funds are used wisely to meet the needs of all pupils.
