Create a Volcano Artwork

This is a collage/painting by an artist called Margaret Godfrey. Can you create a volcano artwork? She has stuck down strips of scrunched tissue to create texture and then painted over it.

If you make your paint watery you can dab it on and then blow through a straw to make the lava eruption! When it's dry you can always draw extra details like boulders in.

Make your own Volcano Model

Use this recipe to make the salt dough, you will need to times the recipe by 6 so that you have enough dough.

<https://www.bbcgoodfood.com/howto/guide/how-make-salt-dough-recipe>

Once you have mixed the dough make it into a volcano shape on a baking tray. Carefully make a hole in the centre and pinch around the top edge to make it volcano shaped. Leave on a sunny window sill to dry out or on a very low heat in the oven until it goes hard. Once it is pretty hard and dried out you can paint it? Start with the red and yellow lava and then carefully add the grey rock around it.

Make your own volcano and make it erupt!

Can you write an acrostic poem about volcanos? Remember an acrostic poem has the word written down the left hand side of the page then each of your sentences must start with the letter. Here is an example

Volcano Acrostic Poem

Violent eruptions
Over flowing, lava tipping out
Lava rushing down the mountain
Crashing and banging, rocks falling
Agonising ones through the city
Noise like thunder
Orange and yellow lava

Volcano Reporter

Imagine you are a news reporter and you are the first to see the volcano erupt! Use the start of this clip to help you <https://www.bbc.co.uk/cbeebies/makes/nina-and-the-neurons-volcano> Describe what you saw in this scene using this plan ...

What could you see?	Once you have made your notes can you add some adjectives to describe them for e.g. hot, racing lava trails or grey, ashy clouds.
What could you hear?
What did you feel?	Last of all write up your report using the ideas you have. If you need an idea of how to start you could begin with ...
What were you thinking?
What was the smell of the ash like?	Today the volcano has finally blown! As I arrived I could see....

Find out about volcanoes

Watch this mini show to find out more about volcanos <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=IAmqsMQG3RM&safe=active>

Volcano Poster

Now use what you have learnt about volcanos from the show above to make a poster about them!

Disney's Volcano Story

Watch Disney's short animation about 2 volcanoes <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=uh4dTLJ9q9o&safe=active>

Can you write a recount of what happens in the story to tell someone who hasn't watched it all about it? Make sure you include lots of detail. Can you explain if you did or didn't like it and why?

Maybe you can even invent your own volcano story to write, you could involve dinosaurs characters too!
