Dear All

The lovely artwork produced at home and in school last week, reminded me of the many animal poems that I enjoy reading. Like this one...

Alligator Problem
By Michael Rosen

If an excavator excavates
A motivator motivates
An activator activates
A rotivator rotivates
A cultivator cultivates
And an operator operates
What does an alligator do?

You can find poems like this one on The Children's Poetry Archive. Michael Rosen will read it to you!
